

ALL-PEOPLE, Some Lineages of Barbara Ann Fisher and Karl Frederick Edler Jr

Dedication

It was the eleventh of October 1989. The family gathered in the Brooklyn NY apartment of our son Jan and his wife Janet, for a small celebration. Two year-old Cory Alexander Simmons-Edler beamed as he looked around the birthday candle-lit circle of his parents, paternal grandparents, uncle and aunt. "All-People", he piped, waving his spoon. Thus began another family story in a clan that treasures many such sayings of tots and octogenarians.

We dedicate this compilation of family lines to Cory and to his siblings and cousins with the hope that one day they will enjoy knowing a bit about the parade of people, winding from the past, who contributed something to their existence.
